Phelps Research Is Now Marcy Phelps & Associates Inc.

DENVER, CO (1/17/18) – Marcy Phelps, president and founder of Phelps Research Inc., announced today her company's name change to Marcy Phelps & Associates Inc. The new name reflects changes in markets, clients, and services since founding her company 18 years ago.

Over the years, Marcy has added to her research expertise by becoming a licensed private investigator and a Certified Fraud Examiner. She has also developed an extensive network of specialized professional associates who assist with global due diligence background investigations and market due diligence.

This shift allows Marcy to dig deeper for insights her clients in emerging or highly-regulated industries use to mitigate risk when investing, taking on clients or partners, and dealing with vendors. She manages every project from start to finish and is the main point of contact, which makes business relationships direct and seamless.

With a new company name, Marcy looks forward to many more years as a leading provider of due diligence investigations. She says, "It is so rewarding to be able to help clients in high-risk industries avoid a serious business mistake or gain the assurance that their planned course of action is a wise one. Knowledge is vital to business success, and we specialize in the information and analysis our clients need to succeed."
